Miss Lulie E. Andrews

Cashier - Bookkeeper and Most Capable "Handy Man."

In presenting a lady, it isn't always the best policy to be too meticulous in giving the number of years that she has worked at any particular place.

In saying something about Miss Lulie Andrews, we are torn between a desire to protect her age and still tell about her wonderful service to Barium Springs. We'll just have to break down and say that she did come here in 1925, fresh out of the Assembly's training school. She came, she saw, she conquered not only a troublesome set of books and a bank account that would sometimes get entirely too weak for its duties, but in addition she took on in such a masterful way the leadership of the Young People's Work that today can be looked on as one of the very foundation stones of our religious life at Barium.

A large part of the credit for this Young People's work goes to "Miss Lulie"; a large part of the credit for the present setup of the handling of our finances goes to her. She has to know a lot about so many things that she is probably the best informed person at Barium Springs about its multiple activities. Certainly she can tell you more quickly which pays and which does not pay—.

We delight to do her honor in our paper and to present her to our friends wherever this Messenger goes.

Many of you would recognize her signature; comparatively few have met her face to face. Here she is:

The Inauguration of Reverend Malcolm MacDonald as President of Thornwell Orphanage

A lot has been written and said about the emotional strain that a father goes through on the occasion of his welcoming his firstborn, and no one has ever yet exhausted that subject.

Recently the writer was invited to attend the ceremonies having to do with some two hundred children acquiring a new father. The ceremonies were impressive; they had to do with greetings from friends in the same linee of work, from neighbors, from former officials, and from the Board of Trustees, and all of this was fine.

He was told how he must raise money, how he must publicize the orphanage, and how he must administer that big financial business wisely, but we were a little disappointed. There didn't seem to be enough talk about the really important thing, and that was the business of being a father to a big family of children, to be the person to look to as their protector, as the person to see that they are never imposed upon, as the one whose activities provide them with the good things of life, the pleasures as well as the necessities. As we sat through that ceremony, we couldn't help wondering what was passing in the minds of those children during this formal introduction to their new father.

Thornwell Orphanage has been extremely fortunate in its presidents - Dr. Jacobs, Dr. Lynn, and now this new man, Mr. MacDonald. Certainly this new president has much in the path to encourage and inspire him. He has a future that is unlimited in its possibilities. He will need all his mental and spiritual resources to handle the job that he has taken on his shoulders, and we hope that he will reserve time and strength for those personal contacts with the children under his care that will mean so much in their lives and their future.

All of us who are engaged in orphanage work wonder what is in a child's mind. During these war times a good many of us are finding out. We were quite impressed sometime ago in listening to a group of old timers - boys and girls who had assembled back here as men and women; they were discussing what they remembered first about Barium. One of them stated most positively that he remembered 'way back when he came to Barium as a six-year old that the superintendent had called him by his first name when he spoke to him that first day. That feeling of comradeship on the day that he needed it so much had stuck in his mind through all the years. We are willing to bet that the superintendent didn't even remember the occasion that was so important for that child.

Worth wrote us that Donny was not wounded too badly, and he should be as good as new in a few more weeks.

Vance Smith, who has been wounded several times, is now at Stark General Hospital in Charleston. A wire came from him saying he is feeling fine and sending us here at Barium greetings. We are so glad to have that boy home!

Resume of Football Doings At Barium

BARIUM 22, ALBEMARLE 18.

Sept. 22.—Barium has played her second game, and it was a thriller. It was played on Sloan Field on a beautiful day before a nice crowd of friendly fans, many of them from Albemarle.

During the game our old friend and neighbor, Bill Kirkman, came in with his Monroe boys, they being en route to Statesville to play a game that night.

We won't attempt to give you all the details of this Albemarle-Barium game; there were thrills a'plenty. There was a blocked punt ending in a touchdown; there were two touchdowns from passes; there was a safety; there was some grand forward passing work on both teams. The blocked punt was recovered by Baldwin; the next touchdown Barium made was a pass - Baldwin to Adams; the last one - a pass from Baldwin to Horace Smith. There were other passes - Cole to Baldwin for a beautiful one. There was some nice running, Adams making the longest gain from scrimmage. There was some extra nice punting, Fred Cole engineering those things.

It was a grand game with both teams determined, alert, and playing good ball. We can stand a lot of games like that, and we feel all the better for having seen it and participated in it.

BARIUM 27, THOMASVILLE 0.

Sept. 29.—Barium's last September game was fine - all except the weather! It rained the entire day, all but the two hours in which the game was played. It didn't rain then, and Sloan Field was just as good as though it badn't rained

Former Barium Girl Writes of Her Appreciation of This Home

The following article was written by Pearl Bostian (now Mrs. Frank Galyon), a member of the class of '33. After graduating from Barium, she worked for a time in Statesville, then High Point, then out on the Pacific Coast, and she has lived most of the time since then on the Coast. Right now she is taking a business course, in addition to her other duties, in Olympia, Washington while her husband is in the service. Pearl said she was practicing on her typewriter and decided to writ an article about Barium. We think it is good enough to publish.

We appreciate the credit Pearl gives to Barium Springs, and we love her for saying these nice things about the old Home. We appreciate all the more the fact that when Pearl was at Barium, she didn't always have smooth sailing. She had her ups and downs, and there were times when she didn't like Barium Springs, just as it happens in the lives of so many of the youngsters here now.

She is seeing Barium as it looks when you look back on it after having seen a good deal of the world.

In a small place which isn't even on the map unless you find a very big map is a place called "HOME" for many children, some who today have grown to manhood and womanhood. This HOME in the heart of North Carolina is BARIUM SPRINGS" Orphanage.

All children, being children, do no realize how much this home means to them. It is later that they look back with pride upon this home of their childhood.

I have lived in quite a few towns from North Carolina to California. Eventually in each town the occasion arises for some one to ask, "Where is your home?" When I tell them I was raised in an orphanage in North Carolina, they get a sad look on their face and always say, "you poor kid." You should see how quickly I say, "Oh, you don't understand about orphanages. I was fortunate." No, I don't mean it is nice to have given up my Mom and Dad and all the little things that go with an individual home. Some of us don't remember that home except by the pictures we have of our parents. Don't fool yourself we would have liked to have had the pleasure of really knowing mother and dad. We would have enjoyed a home with them. When the best of life isn't possible we hope for next best. I am grateful that my mother requested I go to live at Barium if she should pass on while I was still very young.

Of course there are many children who would also like to enter this home but unfortunately there isn't room. You see most of us, including myself, get so busy with our own problems and needs we forget to think that a few dollars we could have spared would help insure the youth of tomorrow.

These small children of Barium soon grow up and after finishing school go to make a place for themselves. Since I was at Barium 14 years, these several hundred children all seem like my brothers and sisters. It sounds like a big family, doesn't it? Yet I knew each of them by name when I was there. I can still close my eyes and and picture each as she or he looked then. I often wonder how they look since they have grown up. Most of the boys now wear some kind of Uncle Sam's uniforms and are scattered all over the States and Europe. Many of the girls are nurses, WAC's and WAVE's. I can assure you that wherever they are they are doing their duty well.

There is a sad part to our story, too. Some of our boys have been wounded and one killed. We all are in deepest sympathy with Mr. Lowrance, our assistant superintendent, whose younger son Fred was killed by the Japs. I am sure many a Barium person found it hard to hold back the tears at this sad news for all of us feel as he was our own brother.

I could write on and on of the men and women of today who are playing their part in helping preserve the things we have found worth fighting for.

So many people have asked me about an orphanage. It seems many think that orphanages are to be mentioned quietly or not at all. We cannot blame them for they do not understand what an orphanage is like. I am not alone in my grateat all, but the crowd was mighty slim, and that's a pity, because they missed seeing a grand game.

Thomasville this year is a combination of Thomasville High and the Mills Home teams, and they have plenty of good, heavy material. By Barium's good luck, they hadn't gotten together too well when they played us, and we beat them 27-0 with each member of the backfield making a touchdown and completing three of the points afterwards.

We really felt good after that game. We were a little bit ashamed of our defeat at the hands of Harding and had a suspicion that it was our luck more than our skill in winning from Albemarle, but there is no doubt about our being superior to Thomasville.

BARIUM 14, ASHEVILLE 33

Oct. 6.—"A whole lot of 'Hip' and a little hipper dipper" was too much for Barium when they went to Asheville. There is a boy on the Asheville team named Hipp; he is the nephew of our Miss Laura Gray Greene, our music teacher. She told us to look out for him when we went up theree. Well, we did, but we didn't look after him soon enough, because he took the ball on the first play after the kickoff and ran sixty five yards for a touchdown and almost broke our hearts. All during the game he was in "our hair" and over the goal line a good many times. He was responsible directly for three of the touchdowns, and it was because we watched him so closely that the other touchdowns were made possible.

Be that as it may, if we can just forget that first half, we didn't look so bad. The second half was 14-7 in our favor with Bennett Baldwin making both the touchdowns but with John Ammons' long arms having a lot to do with both. Earl Adams, with his ball carrying and Fred Cole with his kicking also contributed a lot.

The next time we go to Asheville we are going to start playing the game five minutes earlier, and maybe we can change the complexion of things. Both this year and last year Asheville has started playing the game just a few minutes before we got into it, and that accounts for a good part of the scoring against us.

THE MIDGETS

Our 85's and 100's journeyed to Winston-Salem an September 30th and played a couple of games with the Children's Home. Our 85-pounders lost 13-0; the 100-pounders tied 0-0.

On Saturday night, October 7th, our mixture of heav 85's and the light 100-pounders played a game with a similar team at Landis, and they ended up with a 6-6 score, the Landis team coming from behind and scoring in the last few minutes of the game to save themselves from a defeat.

fulness of being raised at Barium Springs. This point is proven by the many letters received by Mr. Johnston. I only wish every child who doesn't have parents could go there. There are many orphanages all over North Carolina and the rest of the United States which are probably as nice as Barium. We always hold dear the home of our childhood.

Let me tell you a few things about the orphanage as I remember it. I was five years old when I entered Barium. I am now thirty years old and many things have happened since leaving there. When I was there we arose at six o'clock in the morning by the ringing of a big bell. At six-thirty we all went to Rumple Hall for breakfast. Rumple Hall was the cottage where the girls who waited on tables lived. The entire first floor of this building was the dinning room and kitchen. Each table had a matron or senior girl to sit at the head. At seven breakfast was over. We had our own school which started at eight. School was from eight until twelve for the high school students. The grammar grades went to school from one until five. The other half of the day we did the work to be done. The smaller children at Howard Cottage helped keep their cottage tidy. Then there were the girls of Rumple Hall who waited tables and washed the dishes with the aid of a dish washing machine. The older girls at the Woman's Building did quite a few different jobs. For a few months some girls worked in the laundry, others in the kitchen and the Infirmary. A few worked in different cottages to mend clothes and other little things the smaller children couldn't do. Each cottage had a matron. We would rotate jobs so as to do every thing. When you became a senior you worked in the sewing room learning to sew. Each child received a clothing box twice a year, summer and winter. Quite a few churches and friends clothed some of the children.

In the summer we all had a vacation. Some spent two weeks with relatives and others with friends who liked to take Barium boys and girls into their home for two weeks. All who did not go to either went on a camping trip to Lake Waccamaw, Camp Fellowship or elsewhere. We were glad of the vacation but always happy to get back to Barium.

We also had a good football, basketball and track team. There wasn't a town in North Carolina that didn't know about Barium's football team. While living in Bend, Oregon, near Camp Abbot, I met a Sergeant in my husband's company from North Carolina. I asked him the name of his home town and found it to be Mt. Airy. I asked if he had heard of Barium Springs? He answered promptly, "sure, I played football against them and they had some team." He then mentioned Lester King, who happened to be a schoolmate of mine.

Our health was watched closely. We were weighed quite often and had all kinds of shots to prevent typhoid and scarlet fever and other diseases. Our meals were wholesome and we had plenty of rest and exercise. We had our own orchards, dairy, hogs and vegetables including watermelons and canteloupes.

There is so much good that could be told of Barium but that would take pages and pages of paper and even then it would be hard to express my gratitude and thankfulness for the priviledge I had of being at Barium for 14 years. I shall always be proud to say I was raised at Barium Springs orphanage to any person and in any state.

Our B team played the same night with the Landis Varsity, losing 14-0. In their game they evidently caught a habit from the Varsity's playing in the Asheville game and allowed Landis to score a touchdown in the opening kickoff; another touchdown in the quarter from a forward pass. After that, our boys did most of the ball carrying and advanced the ball many more yards than Landis did in the entire game, but none of it happened to be across the goal line, so the score ended Landis 14, Barium B, 0.
